WILL EXONERATE CARLISLE.

Gossip About the Sugar Trust Investigating Committee's Report. which the Democrats and Republicans of the sugar investigating committee will agree, and upon which emphatic report will be made, is the exoneration of Secretary Carlisle from any impropriety in the matter of the sugar schedule, and the in the testimony and will say that it is the belief of the committee that the Secretary's only connection with the whole affair was the preparation of the sugar schedule at the request of the members of the finance committee. It is not yet known whether or not Senator Allen will concur in this part of the report, and, in fact, there is very little known as to what the Nebraska Senator will do or the kind of a minority report he will submit. Sen-ator Gray has made a draft of a report, but it is not wholly satisfactory to the Republican members, who say it is too mild in its suggestions. A draft prepared by the Republicans is in the hands of Chairman Gray, and he is attempting to harmonize the two in order, if possible, to get a report which all can be agreed upon.

A Dalton Gang Outlaw Killed. EL RENO, O. T., July 4.-"Lit" Dalton, the surviving brother of the notorious Bill Dalton, with a Mexican negro, rode into the city, tied their horses and entered a saloon. The Mexican emerged from the saloon and was mounting his horse, when an officer approached him and commanded him to turn over his six-shooter, which order he resented by shooting at the officer. A fierce running fight ensued, in which the Mexican was shot four times in the head and through the body, and his horse was killed. The injured man soon expired. He was a frontier outlaw and a desperate character. Dalton took no part in the affair.

Cut His Throat from Ear to Ear.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARSHALL, Ill., July 4.-Jacob Lickert, a well-known farmer of Darwin township, committed suicide this morning. He had been accusing his family for several days of trying to kill him, being evidently insane. This morning he got up and slipped out and first tried to knock his brains out against a tree. Failing in that, he cut his throat from ear to ear.

Oarsman Drowned.

ST. LOUIS, July 4.-The six-oared racing boat of the St. Louis Rowing Club, while out for a spin, struck a concealed log in the river just above the Eads bridge and upset. Fritz Sexauer was drowned. The remainder of the crew clung to the boat or swam out.

THREE HIGHWAY ROBBERS.

They Hold Up Lee Perkins on North Pennsylvania Street.

Lee Perkins was walking on North Pennsylvania street, between North and Walnut streets, last night about 11 o'clock, when three men sprang upon him from behind a tree and threw him to the ground. He was told to keep quiet. One of the robbers searched his pockets, but found only a gold watch. He took this and was about to continue his search when two men were seen approaching. The three robbers ran away and disappeared east on Walnut street. The robbers were not masked and Perkins says he could identify them. They were plainly dressed men. Two wore slouch hats and the other a stiff hat. All had mustaches and appeared to be about twenty-five years of age.

Only Four Hits Off Phillips-Big Crowds at Both Games-Detroit Defeats Sioux City Twice.

More than six thousand people saw the ball games yesterday. Upon ordinary occasions a baseball crowd can stir up enough noise without artificial aid. Yesterday was not an ordinary occasion, however. It was the "day we celebrate," and numberless firecrackers of various sizes were tossed into the field whenever the situation justified a noisy demonstration. One enterprising "rooter" had a shotgun. These explosions took the place of the usual lung exercises indulged in at triumphant moments. The morning game did not present as favorable a field for the burning of powder as that of the afternoon, though it was a close argument and should have resulted differently. Kerins put his shoulder to the Minneapolis wheel, in the capacity of umpire, and helped the visitors win out, which they did by the narrow margin of one run. Twenty-five hundred people saw the first game. and it kept them on tip-toe straight through. Cross pitched one of his effective games, and the long, lean Parvin proved a puzzle to everybody but Motz and Mc-Carthy, the former getting two singles and a triple and the latter a home run. It was McCarthy's first appearance in Indianapolis, and he created a favorable impression from the start. Minneapolis played a shade better ball than Sharsig's men, who neglected opportunities to win out on several occasions.

They started the scoring business in the second inning, when Motz opened with a single to right center, going along to second on Hines's fumble of the hit. Hulen gave Dalrymple a life and allowed Motz to reach third, and the latter scored on Westlake's grounder to Hulen, which resulted in a double play. Mills got a single hit. Shields flew to Hines. McCarthy electrifled the crowd and precipitated a deafening fusillade of firecrackers by hitting to the right center fence for a home run in the third. Unfortunately there was nobody on base at the time, or the game might not have gone to the enemy, as it did subsequently.

In the last half the Minneapolis crowd saw these two runs and went them just two better to the disgust of the patriotic WASHINGTON, July 4.-One thing on people at the grounds. Visner started with a scratch infield hit and Parvin lifted a miserable little fly back of Shields, and just out of his reach. Mills failed to stop Shields's throw, and the runners landed on third and second in safety. Hulen went to first on balls, and, with the bases full, report will state the facts as brought out | Cross gave Crooks four wide ones, forcing in a run. Hines hit safe to left, scoring Parvin and Hulen. Werden fouled to Gray and Burns hit to the lame third-baseman, who threw wide to the plate, Crooks scoring. Burrell struck out and Westlake caught Wilson's high fly. In the fifth, with two out, Gray hit safe, and Motz drove the ball to right for three bases, earning a run. Dalrymple went to first on balls and stole second, but Westlake was called out on strikes, and the crowd gave some violent evidences of its lack of faith in the umpire's judgment.

> Indianapolis tied the score in the sixth and the firecracker fiends broke loose again. Mills and Shields were sent to base on balls and moved along by a wild pitch. The prospect was beautiful, but it didn't "pan," though it should have done so. Cross went out at first and Werden threw to second to catch Shields off the base, Motz starting home. Crooks threw to the plate, but Motz scored all right. Shields stole third, but was thrown out trying to score of Mc-Carthy's grounder to Crooks. Henry re-tired the side from Crooks to Werden. There was another and a final outburst in the seventh, when Indianapolis took the lead. Gray went to first on balls. Motz drove a nice single to center, and Dalrymple followed suit, sending Gray across the plate. Another bright vista opened up and more powder was burned. The triumph was short lived, however, for Westlake flew to Wilson, Mills to Visner and Shields went out from Hulen to Werden. The brawny visitors then proceeded to smother the fragile lead Indianapolis had taken. Hulen started in with a three-bagger. Hines followed with a safe one, but Werden hit to Gray, who made a clever stop, and, with Shields and Motz, doubled Hines and Wer-/ den. Crooks reached third on the play and scored the winning run on Burns's single. Burrel went out from short to first. The Indianapolis players could do nothing more with Parvin, and the game ended, after this neck-and-neck race, with them just one run behind. Score: Indianapolis ARRHOAR

THE AFTERNOON GAME. It was a walk-away for Indianapolis in the afternoon game, and about four thousand people enjoyed the victory. Ample opportunity was afforded to work off the stock of firecrackers left over from the morning game, and it was taken advantage of to the fullest and noisiest possible extent. Phillips was in great form and pitched the best ball of the season on the home grounds. He was simply invincible, and the Minneapolis men couldn't find him at any time during the nine innings. They hit him safely but four times, all singles. One of these was a very "scratchy" affair by Fraser, which sent in the only two runs secured by the visitors. Had Mills not fumbled Burns's grounder they would have been shut out. That one error by Indianapolis cost two runs. Only three Minneapolis men reached first base after the second inning, and but one of them got as far as second. In the field they put up a gilt-edged game, making the first triple play of the season here. This was in the fifth inning when, with Dalrymple on second, Westlake on first, and nobody out, Mills hit a liner to Werden, who touched first and threw to second, completing the triple easily as both runners were playing well off their bases. Hulen had a couple of beautiful stops, Crooks a jumping catch of Dalrymple's liner, and Burns a long running catch. The home team also played great ball, but hadn't as much work to do. Gray carried off both the fielding and batting honors, and his three-bagger in the sixth would have been a home run for any of the other players. As it was he limped around to third on the hit, which went to the right center fence-that favorite spot for homerun drives. Henry put up a lively game and everybody hustled good and hard. Phillips struck Crooks out twice and Werden once. Fraser was very wild, giving nine bases on balls, hitting four men and having two wild pitches. When he got them over he was hit pretty hard.

With two out in the first Gray hit safe to left, Motz got a base on balls and Dalrymple was hit by a pitched ball. With the sacks filled, Westlake placed a nice single in right, driving in two runs, but was caught at second trying to get down there on the throw home. In the second the visitors tied the score, Mills fumbling Burns's grounder as a starter. Burrell struck out | and Wilson was hit by a pitched ball. Vis- Newell, Stewart and McCauley. Struck out ser the young pitcher poked the handle of his bat against a ball and it dropped in short left field, Burns and Wilson scoring. Hulen fouled out to Motz. It ran along through the third inning this way, but in the fourth Indianapolis opened a gap that kept steadily widening. With two out, Shields hit safe to left and Phillips was "soaked" in the back with the ball. A passed ball advanced them. McCarthy went to first on four wide ones and Henry hit to right for a base, sending in two runs. He stole second, and Gray came along with a safe drive to right, scoring two more runs. A wild pitch let Gray to second, but Motz struck out.

The only struggle the visitors made was in the fifth, and it was soon over. Fraser struck out, but Hulen hit safe to right. Crooks struck out and Hines singled. Werden hit to Gray, who touched Hulen on the line, and the little flurry was over. From that on it was one, two, three with the Minneapolis men. Shields was hit in the sixth and Phillips got a base on balls. The former stole third and scored on Mc-Carthy's grounger to Hulen, which doubled Phillips and McCarthy, however. Henry hit safe to right and Gray sent him around on a beautiful three-bagger, which would have been an easy home run for a man with two good legs. Motz went out from Crooks to Werden.

In the eighth Hulen's fumble gave Shields a life. Phillips and McCarthy struck out, but Henry was hit by pitcher and Gray got a base on balls, filling the corners. A wild pitch let Shields in, and Motz sent the other two men home on a slashing single to right. Dalrymple then drove a fine three-bagger just inside the right foul line, scoring Motz. Westlake fouled to Burrell. Mills opened the ninth with a scratch two-bagger, which bounded away scratch two-bagger, which bounded away from Wilson. A passed ball moved him to third. Shields went to first on balls and stole second, going along to third on Burrell's overthrow, which let Mills in. Phillips was retired at first by Crooks and McCarthy fouled out to Werden. The big first baseman stopped a moment to "jolly" the crowd in front of the bleachers, where he caught the ball, and Shields sprinted home. Henry was called out on strikes. home. Henry was called out on strikes. Umpire Kerins was "off" again in his work, but the game not being a close one the de-

PROTESTED GAME. Grand Rapids Not Content with Winning One from Milwaukee. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 4.-The 'Brewers" and the "Rustlers" broke even on the games to-day, but the losers threaten to protest the morning game. Lohman sent the ball over the fence near the foul line, and the ground rules provide but two bases shall be allowed on such a hit, the fence being less than 235 feet from the plate. Sheridan had not been informed of the rule, and refused to reverse his decision. The home players could not hit Hastings, no less than five of them striking out, but in the afternoon they found Stephens an easy mark for the first four innings. Hastings had great speed, which not only bothered the batters, but disabled Lohman. Attendance, 2,000. Score of morning game:

DIVIDED AT TOLEDO. Local Team Won the Morning Game,

Kansas City the Afternoon. TOLEDO, July 4.-The visitors started in to win the morning game in the third inning by bunching hits when the home team bunched errors. The latter braced up after that and in the remaining six innings Rettger held Kansas City down to two hits. Attendance, 2,800. Score:

The afternoon game was a pitchers' bat-tle in which the Kansas Citys won because of untimely gifts of bases by Foreman and costly errors by the local infield. Daniels pitched his usual puzzling ball and the heavy hitters of the Toledo team could do nothing except bat high flies to the outfield.
